S A L E M, October 13.

A Gentleman at Marblehead has favoured us with the following Extract, concerning the late terrible Hurricane in the West Indies viz.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman at St. Eustatia, to one in Marblehead, dated Sept. 6, 1772.

"From the Midst of every Devastation you can possibly conceive, from the most dismal Horrors of Tempest, Inundation or earthly Tremors, I remain to hand you a very imperfect Description of the most violent Hurricane ever known in this Atmosphere: The oldest Person living has not known, nor does History relate, any Kind of Equality.

"On the last Day of August, the Morning of which opened with a very close Horizon, Clouds low, and every Appearance of Blowing, gave us but a very short Warning of the most dismal Scene. Before Nine it began, and continued with every Violence till about Mid day, from the Northern and Eastern Quarter, but mostly from the Northward: I cannot say when it shifted Southward and Westward, which was most violent, continuing without Intermission till towards Evening, and nothing less than a total Demolition of this life was threatened the whole Time. Mr. — and myself, and Negroes, who happened luckily to be at Home, took to our lower Tenement, presuming on our Safety, in which, before 11 o'Clock, our Hopes were shattered by the Neighbours flocking from their falling Houses, with their Children, to us for Safety: But, alas, how vain the Hope of Man! scarce half an Hour after receiving the Poor and Distressed under our Roof, the upper Tenement was wholly levelled, and with it three or four more large Dwelling Houses, very near us, in the same Instant, and the Root removed from above our Heads; which, with the shocking Clattering of the Pieces of falling Houses, together with the Inundations occasioned by the heavy Rains, is too shocking, too horrible to describe.—Faint must be the Ideas which the Pen can convey of so dismal a Scene.—From the Room of the Tenement, we were then forced to quit, each taking up an Infant, assisted all to get into a Negro House, newly built, of strong Construction, and of the Height of the Stone Wall, which made one Side of it, about 7 Feet. Here, as before, we all presumed our Safety secured: But it was scarce half an Hour before the Roof was blown in, and Stone Walls, about 7 Feet high, which inclosed the whole Building, together with a strong Building in the Garden, were all blown down to their Foundations. In this Extremity, dripping and cold, were we reduced to the Tamarind Trees, there to hold on by them, and by one another. This was still but a momentary Protection; the Violence of the Wind was so great as to remove the Trees, and by the Roots tear them from the Ground, although no Tree has equal Root for holding. This discouraging Stroke, the Shrieks of the Women, the Cries of the Children, the Howling of the Winds, the Current of Water down the Mountains carrying all before it, presented a Scene of Horror almost to Destruction and Despair. However, by the Blessing of God we were spared, and dragged through, to the Number of 18 Souls, to the Lee of the End of the House which was great Part standing, till, fearing a total Chill to the Blood, we redoubled our Efforts, and finally got to a Kitchen, the last Apartment, to Appearance, remaining unhurt.

Here we continued the remaining Night; and not one, except the Wounded by the Roofs falling, but is in Health. The Number of Vessels lost, &c. must defer to another Opportunity."

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 27.
ABDUL Kerim Effendi, and the Sieur Karadgia, who negotiated the armistice, have been raised, the first to the dignity of Comptroller General of the Finances, and the other to that of Prince of Moldavia, which is the prime dignity among the Grecian Princes.

Nine Deputies are arrived here from Cairo, to render homage to the Grand Signior, in the names of Mehemed Aboudaah, and the Beys of Egypt, each of which has received a Caftan from his Highness.

Bastia, July 18. Francisco Lamberti, one of the Banditti, well known by the many murders and robberies he has committed, was lately killed by some volunteers, who brought his head to Calvi.

L O N D O N.

From the Gentleman's Magazine of August 1772.

July 18. Came on, at the Old Baley, the trial of Capt Robert Jones for an unnatural crime on the person of Henry Francis Hay, a boy about 13 years of age. This boy was an Apprentice to a Jeweller, in St. Martin's Lane, was seduced to the lodgings of the Prisoner under pretence of matching a knee buckle, and was there assaulted and the unnatural crime committed upon him, as laid in the indictment. He was desired to call again the next day for the buckle, which he did, and the prisoner repeated the same unnatural intercourse, which the boy said he suffered partly for the sake of a promised reward, and partly from fear of disobliging his master's customer. The Boy, tho' so very young was, it seems very particular in his evidence, and his character being established by substantial witnesses, the jury believed him, and the prisoner was found guilty. As this trial may one time or other be drawn into precedent, this short account of it was thought necessary; otherwise it were well if the memory of the Crime, the Captain, and the boy, were for ever buried in oblivion. The Captain has since been reprieved.

A duel was fought with pistols between the Marquis of Fleury, son to the Duke of Fleury, and an officer of distinction in the regiment of Touraine. The officer was killed, and the Marquis had his arm broke.

July 30. Mrs. Cropley, having some cheerful company drinking tea at her house at Ely, was suddenly surprised by the sight of her brother, who had been missing many years; and who entered abruptly without any previous notice; which had such an effect upon the poor woman's spirits, that she instantly fainted away, and never recovered afterwards.

At a full assembly of the States General, orders were given for a fleet of six men of war lying in the port of Harlem to sail with all possible dispatch for the West Indies. It has since been reported, that the Dutch Ambassador at the court of Spain has suddenly left that court, and appeared at the Hague.

August 4. On Sunday last in the forenoon, the following melancholy accident happened near Kirk-fall, in this parish: As one Wildman, a clothier of Armeley, and two of his sons, one about seven, and the other about 16 years of age, were viewing some embanking that is now making on the river Air, the younger boy, attempting to walk upon a plank laid over a part of the said river, the plank by some means gave way, and he fell in; the father immediately leaped after him, in order, if possible, to save his life, which from the depth of the water he was not able to effect; the eldest son seeing the imminent danger of both father and brother, plunged into the river to their assistance, where, after using all his endeavours for that purpose, he also perished along with them.

August 5. This day the affair of Mr. Morris, who went abroad with his ward, the natural daughter of the late Lord Baltimore, was taken into consideration by the Lord Chancellor; when his Lordship was pleased to dismiss him from his wardship, and to order him to stand committed. On the contrary, it is said, that Mess. Wilkes and Glyn have received letters from Mr. Morris, pressing them to call upon the Ministry, to remonstrate against his imprisonment at Lisle as an infringement of the law of nations.

August 8. Four persons were tried at York assizes, for smothering a boy, that had been bitten by a mad dog, and was raving mad himself, between blankets. They are said to have been acquitted for want of evidence.

August 12. Eleven of the hearts of steel, who were indicted in the county of Down, and transmitted to Dublin for trial, pursuant to a late act of Parliament for that purpose, were brought to the bar, by virtue of a commission for holding a special gaol delivery. The court sat three days, the two first of which were taken up in disputes concerning the legality of the commission under which they sat; on the third a great number of witnesses were examined on behalf of the Crown, and after a long and excellent charge given to the jury, the prisoners were all brought in Not Guilty.

August 31. News is received from Poland, which renders the partition of that kingdom no longer doubtful, a congress for that purpose being already appointed to be held at Konigsberg, previous to which the Emperor and King of Prussia have had a private conference at Niesi.

The papers give an account of a dangerous insurrection of the negroes and natives of a Portuguese settlement in the neighbourhood of St. Lewis, in the Brazilia, with an intent to destroy all the white people, and to seize the ships in the harbour. On the 17th of May, they assembled to the number of 3000; but their plot being discovered, the few soldiers that kept guard were joined by the townspeople, and formed a body of about 800 men, all tolerably well armed, who met the insurgents, fought, and overcame them. About 172 of their number were killed, and 100 wounded; 30 of the ringleaders were afterwards secured, and put to cruel deaths. The rest are reduced to their former slavery.

The Empress of Russia is said to have lately purchased a diamond of Gregory Siffias, a Greek, weighing 779 carats, at the immense price of 100,000l. and this notwithstanding the war in which she has been so long engaged.

By accounts from the archipelago, it is computed that no less than 700 houses have been destroyed in the islands of that sea since Christmas last, by earthquakes, and that 5000 inhabitants have perished.

One Nicholas Goldsmith, a cowherd, in Saxe Gotha, was lately broke upon the wheel there, for the murder of children, whom he had killed and eaten. There was a cave near his cottage in which he cooked and feasted on the flesh of the unhappy victims; and before he was discovered he had made away with no less than fifteen, which he confessed at the place of execution. Another herdsman traced him to his cave, and caught him in the fact, and gave information against him to a Magistrate, by which his inhuman cruelty was detected.

August 29. Several capital merchants have quitted Dantzick, being convinced that that city will soon be deprived of its trade and liberties.

We learn from Seville, that a Dutch man of war which put into that port, under pretence of repairing some damage, had been seized, and the crew imprisoned, a large quantity of prohibited goods being found on board.

Sept. 1. Yesterday a Commission passed the Great Seal, appointing the Lord Chancellor, and the other Ministers of State, together with William Earl of Dartmouth, Soame Jenyns, Edward Elliott, Lord Robert Spencer, George Greville, Bamber Gascoyne, William Jolliffe, Esquires, and Lord Garies, to be Commissioners for promoting the trade of Great Britain, and inspecting and improving the Plantations in America, and elsewhere, with a revocation of the last commission.

Sept. 3. A letter from Copenhagen says, that a Swedish Nobleman of great rank, is now raising men, in order to oppose the present measures of the King of S.....

CHARLES-TOWN, (South-Carolina) Sept. 29.

The ship Meredith, John Peacock, master, from Jamaica for London, with a cargo of rum, sugar, &c. ran ashore in the night of the 6th ult. on Watling's Island, one of the Bahamas, and is entirely lost. The Captain, some passengers, and part of the crew, got the next day on board the ship Charlotte, Capt. Cooper, also bound for London: On the 11th ult. the ship Sunbury, Capt. Andrew Bayne, from Hispaniola for Georgia, (who arrived here the 18th instant) saw the said wreck, and took the mate and four of the people from off Watling Island, they being left behind, as they could not get a passage with Capt. Cooper, he being in want of water. Upwards of one hundred puncheons of rum were saved out of the Meredith, by Capt. Bayne.

Capt. Pitts arrived here from Jamaica, who informs, that on the 4th instant, about 25 leagues to the westward of the Grand Calmano's, he met with a violent gale of wind or hurricane, which lasted 24 hours, and he imagines has done much damage at sea: On the 12th instant, Capt. Pitts spoke a schooner from the Havana for the Matanzas, who informed him, that on the 28th ult. a terrible hurricane began at the Havana, and continued till the 30th; which had driven all the vessels in that harbour from their anchors.

October 6. Sunday put in here, the sloop Three Maries, Thomas Crawford, master, from Tobago for Cape-Fear, who informs, that about the last of August, his Excellency Governor Leyburne died at St. Vincent's. In Capt. Crawford came passenger Stephen Newsum, late master of the sloop Dobbs, belonging to Richard Quince, Esq; of Cape Fear, which was drove ashore at Statia, and entirely lost, in the late hurricane: The brig Tryon; Thomas Manning, master, also belonging to Mr. Quince, foundered in Basseterre Road, and every soul on board, except a negro boy, perished.

VIRGINIA, October 19.

On Friday last the 16th inst. arrived in Hampton Road, the ship General Wolfe, Capt. Hunter, with passengers from Londonderry; 80 of them were the same afternoon landed at Hampton, there staletons, so weak they could hardly walk or stand, and most of them without any money to pay for their support. The inhabitants charitably took care of them and supplied them with necessaries, intending however to oblige the Capt. who was ill of the gout on board, to give security for their support, according to law. This ship it is said had been 17 weeks on the passage, near half the time at short allowance, came out with 300 passengers, of whom about 80 had died at sea of mere want and the disorders arising from it, in drinking salt water, &c. part of the time the allowance was half a biscuit and half a pint of water a day. He met at sea the sloop patty (late Capt. Bafden) who had been run foul of and quitted by all the people, except 2 little negro boys, as mentioned in our last. Capt. Hunter put some of his hands on board, and after securing the most valuable effects, sent her to Philadelphia. About 50 passengers, left the ship near the capes and went off for Baltimore in Maryland.

PHILADELPHIA, October 21.

Capt. Brown from Hispaniola informs, that the latter end of August they had on the fourth tide of that Island a violent gale of wind, which drove ashore, 28 sail of French vessels, all which are lost, and that next morning 280 drowned persons were taken up. On his passage, the 18th inst. in lat. 38, and 20 fathom water, he saw floating a large rudder, almost new, with iron on it; and on the 13th inst. spoke a sloop from Cape Francois for New-York, who had lost her Boom.

The above ship sailed from Londonderry June 25, with 250 people on board for this port.

governor of the Co- a Proclamation, dated the 22d inst. offering a Reward of Thirty Pounds lawful, for apprehending a certain James Shields, or Sheels, who 'tis supposed murdered one James Johnson, a transient Man, whose Body was found in a Grove of Wood, near Say Brook Ferry, in the County of New-London: The said Shields is of a middling Stature, thick-set, of a dark Complexion, about 30 Years old, lively and active, had on a large blue Vest, and sailed out of New-Haven about two Years since.

We have heard the following further Circumstances, relating to the above Murder: That the two Men, both travelling on Foot to the Westward, happen'd about 13 Days ago, to meet upon the Road, a little to the Eastward of Saybrook Ferry, that they seem'd to be Friends and Acquaintance, that as they cross'd the Ferry, Shields said to Johnson, "The last Time we travelled together, you had no Money and I bore your Expenses, and now you have Money and I nont you may bear mine;" that after crossing the Ferry they call'd at a Tavern together, and had a Dram—That some Time after, they were seen setting down by the Side of the Road eating Bread and Cheese together, and not far from that Place the Murder was committed; a Person passing the Road, observ'd a Cloth lying at a Distance, under which he found the naked Body of Johnson, stabbed in several Places about the Breast, and disfigured in the Face. The Clothes and all his Effects were taken away, a Pair of Shoes were left, and known by the Ferryman to be the same Shields had on. As soon as the Magistrates got Notice, a Messenger was sent towards New York in Pursuit of the supposed Murderer, and heard of him all the Way on the Road till he enter'd this Government, since which he has not been heard of.

The following were the Goods taken away from Johnson, A Felt Hat, a check'd Shirt, Buckskin Breeches, lapelled, a Button Hole on each Side standing back of the usual Place of Buttoning; a new Pair of turn'd Pumps, a Pair of grey ribb'd Stockings, Pinchbeck open work'd Shoe Buckles, a Snuff colour'd Broad Cloth Vest, the Back of a different Colour.

His Majesty has been pleas'd to promote the following Captains of the Royal Regiment of Artillery, to the Rank of Majors in the Army, William Martin, John Innis, Forbes Macbean, Francis James Buchanan, David Hay, and Joseph Winter.

Sunday last being the Accession of his present Majesty King George the Third (when he enter'd the 13th Year of his Reign) the same was observed here by a Royal Salute from our Battery.

The Britannia, Capt. Falconer, arriv'd at Philadelphia, from England, has brought the London Prints to the 8th of September, which mention That the King of Sweden having on the 21 of August, assembled the States of his Kingdom at Stockholm, in order to abolish the Form of Government which on the 29th of May he had sworn to observe, the House of Nobles and the Palace being invell'd on all Sides with Troops, and Cannon planted in the Court, The King open'd the Scene by a Speech from the Throne—wherein he declar'd he did not desire the Sovereignty, and renounc'd it with a solemn Oath; after which he produced the new Form of Government which the Members of the Assembly, sign'd, sealed, and swore to observe.—By this Form, tho' the States are to assemble, deliberate, grant Money, &c. yet in Effect the whole Power is lodg'd in the King, who may be as arbitrary as he pleases. It is thought the whole of this Scheme was planned by the King of Prussia, who was occasionally to assist in the Execution. Also that he is the Author of the Scheme for dismembering Poland of Part of its Dominions, and appropriating them to the neighbouring Powers; and that this Scheme is so artfully laid, that no Force can be rais'd in Opposition, that will be sufficient to prevent its Execution; that his Share in the Division is to be all Pomerania and Polish Prussia, together with a large Sum of Money; the Emperor's, that fine Part of Poland that lies contiguous to his hereditary Dominions, and that the Czarina is to possess some of the Northern Provinces: On the other Hand it is said that the combining Powers began to grow jealous of each other, that the King of Poland has sent to each of them, spirited Remonstrances, declaring that he will maintain his Dominions so long as he can bring one Soldier to the Field; that this Affair is like to occasion a general War, that a new Congress is to be held upon it, from which great Consequences are expected. That the French intend to make Corsica a Repository for Naval Stores, which it is thought will enable them to engross the Levant Trade, and command the Mediterranean. That a great House in Cadiz has fail'd for 2 Millions Sterling. That the English Trade to Portugal is almost annihilated, and that the Salary of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland is to be augmented to £24,000 per Annum.

His Excellency, Sir Ralph Payne, Governor General of the Caribbe Isles, appointed Wednesday the 16th of September to be held as a Day of Fasting and Humiliation throughout the Islands and Places under his Government.

To be let, and entered upon immediately furnished or unfurnished.—Three genteel rooms, one on the first and two on the second floor, all fronting the street, with fire places in two of them; and a cellar adjoining: They are fit for a merchant or shop-keeper, and may be seen by applying to ABRAHAM COCK, Cooper, next door to Mr. Jasper Drake, at Beekman's Slip.

The Sale of the Remainder of the Lots in Well-Street, (which formerly belonged to Colonel Dap- peyler) is put off till Wednesday next, being the 4th of November, when they will be peremptorily sold.

A N anonymous correspondent who dates his letter in East New-Jersey, has sent money to pay for an advertisement, signifying his apprehensions, of a conspiracy among the Negroes, which he supposes has been long in agitation, to set themselves free: He grounds this conjecture on speeches that he has heard, were made by two Negroes, one lately; the other about a year ago, viz.—"That it was not necessary that they should endeavour to please their masters, for, that they should not have any masters long." He therefore hopes all the Colonies will take proper measures for their security, and particularly, that they will put in execution the laws which prohibit Negroes, who are become vastly numerous, from meeting together in companies. And tho' he has 7 of his own, he prays that the King and parliament would make a law, to send all Negroes back to their own country, at the expense of their owners; and he desires, that this caution may not serve to any, as coming from the black market! 56 59

POET'S CORNER.

THE Vanity of Earthly Enjoyments.
LIFE, how vainly held a blessing, Worthy man's high hopes to share.
 Proves to every one possessing, Full of sorrow full of care;
 What if fortune should bestow ye, Still the busy hand prevails,
 Or should adverse fate attend ye, Sorrow eves with it dwells.
 See the beau in chariot jolling, All without a gaudy scene;
 Take him on his pillow rolling, Slave to tyrant thoughts within.
 Grant the fawning courtier favour, Give him all his hopes pursue,
 Still you hear him craving ever, Still he pines for something new.
 Fill the miser's bags with treasure, Spread the hero's glory round,
 Fear outweighs the scale of pleasure, Envy tramples honour down.
 Places, titles, pomp and riches, Sweets imbitter'd are by pain,
 Thus experience daily teaches, Life and all its joys are vain.

SCRIVENER'S OFFICE, &c.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I CAN never sufficiently acknowledge those your many Favours I have so sensibly received since the Establishment of this Office, but hope from a Continuance of that Conduct and Affluity wherewith I have executed the general Business thereof for upwards of Eight Years past, I shall be entitled to your future Favour and Protection, assuring you, the Summit of my Wish is, to approve myself a useful Member of Society, altho' I have lost the Liberty of a Britain, in being denied the full Exercise of my Profession; a Circumstance I own at one Time much affected me, but have since learn'd to palliate the Grievance with that inestimable Balsam Contentment, so truly said to swell a Mite into a Talent, and make a Man richer than the Indies. An not being concern'd in the Practice, I can have no View to give other than the most candid Opinion and Advice in Matters of Law and Equity, which I shall at all Times study to do in such Manner, that you may rely thereon; and as well in the Drawing of Writings, as all other the Business of this Office; the greatest Care and Endeavour will be used to establish the Character, and prove the Gratitude of your faithful and very obedient Servant,
 JOHN C. KNAPP,
 Attorney at Law, do B. R.

ANATOMICAL PRELECTIONS, the eighth Course. On Monday November the Ninth, the introductory Lecture will be read at five in the Evening; wherein a Sketch of the original Authors and Improvers of Anatomy will be given.

On Wednesday following, the Osteology will begin, and on Friday and following Days proceed until the Sum of the Discoveries of Havers, Nerve and Ruffinus, in the Confirmation of these Parts, are perfectly described; and the Doctrines of the Diseases of the Bones, are suggested by the celebrated Boerhaave in his Aphorisms, and explained by the Baron Van Swieten, are illustrated, with fine Preparations of their Membranes and Vessels.

In the second Part, the Muscling, the elegant Descriptions of that great Anatomist William Cooper, will be illustrated, and many Preparations exhibited, whereby the Multitude of Vessels, in these Instruments of Motion are set to View; and the peculiar Modification of component Parts; by which they are liable to Obstructions, cold and inflammatory, may be clearly understood.

In the Third Part, the Trunks and larger Branches of the Arteries will be traced through all the Organs, and the Motion of the Blood through them, and return by the Veins, as proposed, and proved by Harvey, will be likewise demonstrated by the additional Experiments of Injections, which run with great Facility from Arteries into Veins, quite round from the left Ventricle to the right Auricle and Lungs.

In Part the Fourth, all the Nerves, as usual, will be traced as far as can be, by Anatomical Enchryses, and shown; where the proximate Causes of some Palseys, and imbecility of sensitive Powers are made evident to Sight.

Part the Fifth exhibits the Viscera of the three Cavities, wherein not only the Structure and circular Motion of the Fluids will be again demonstrated, but some of the Causes whereby that Motion, on which animal Life chiefly depends, is so frequently disturbed. And in this Part the Discoveries of the famous Willis in the Structure of the Encephalon and Nerves; of Lower in the Heart, and of Giffon in the Construction, and Motions of the Liver, Stomach and Intestines, will be shown, in such Interferences, and Deductions drawn from the Structure, as may seem to set the Doctrines on the Uses and Affections of these Parts, in the clearest Light, as delivered by those great Men.

The whole Course too, will be closed with the beautiful Phenomenon of the Blood's Circulation, as well in the double reflecting as in the solar Microscope.

Private Instruction, Ten Pounds.

Public Lectures, Five Pounds.

N. B. And as the President and Governors insist, that a public Examination in natural Philosophy shall precede the medical Degrees, a Course of Prelections will be instituted for this Intention; and all those Parts of natural Philosophy selected, which are deemed essentially necessary to the right understanding of Principles on which the Propositions concerning the animal Oeconomy are founded. Price £. 3 : 5.

No Admittance until each Course is paid for.

LONDON,

Aug. 21. We are assured that Lord Harcourt, on his return from Versailles, has been enabled to assure his Majesty of the very amicable disposition and friendly sentiments of all the branches of the House of Bourbon towards Great-Britain.

Yesterday morning his Excellency Prince Masserano, the Spanish Ambassador, set off for Spain with a grand retinue.

One objection which Lord Hillsborough had to the intended settlement on the Ohio, was its inaccessibility to the naval forces of this kingdom, if ever the Colonists in that part, like those of Boston, shall presume to dispute the authority of Great-Britain. His Lordship declared himself sensible that the mere refusal of one particular settlement would by no means check the progress of American emigration, but to form a settlement which we were by no means able to command, he insisted, was repugnant to every idea of sound policy, and would be productive of very dangerous consequences to posterity.

We are assured, that several eminent Merchants in the city are upon the point of forming themselves into a Company for the purpose of importing annually a certain quantity of American flour, which they are satisfied will answer every purpose of the flour made from the grain of our own growth.

Orders are sent to Portsmouth for two men of war to be immediately fitted out for the coast of Africa, for the better protection of the trade, where they are to remain for some time, and afterwards sail down the coast and join the fleet on the North-American station.

The last ships which arrived from the Brazil at Lisbon, give a long detail of a dreadful conspiracy which broke out in that country. It was not suppressed but with great difficulty and effusion of blood; there being killed in one engagement 272 of the conspirators, and 100 wounded; and of the Portuguese 14 killed and 42 wounded.

A Commission of Oyer and Terminer this day passed the Great Seal, authorizing and empowering the Governors of New-York and Connecticut, and others named therein, to try any person or persons that may be taken in consequence of the Proclamation issued for apprehending any that were concerned in the plundering and burning the Gaspee schooner.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.

By the Snow Capleton, Capt. Nunn, from Dominica, we are advised, that on the 31st of August, a large Brig, Capt. Collins, belonging to Quebec, was driven ashore and lost, but the People saved; and the Governor's Sloop, with the Engineer's Schooner, and thirteen other Sail there, all left; all the other Vessels that were at the Island when the Hurricane came on, put out to Sea.

By Capt. Copeland from St. Vincent's, we hear that 30 or 40 Vessels at Guadalupe, and a Sloop at Martinico were lost by the Hurricane. On his Passage October 16th, spoke a Sloop from Grenada for New-Haven, in New England, out 31 Days; the Master of her informed him he took up and had on board the Crews of three New England Vessels, that foundered in the Hurricane off St. Martins and St. Eustatia.

Capt. Carr from Grenada, October 15th, 19 Leagues off Cape Charles, spoke a Sloop from St. Martins for New-London, out 22 Days.

Capt. Carr informs us, that Governor Fitzmorris came from St. Vincent's to Grenada on a Visit, and died in a few Days after his Arrival there.

Capt. Sutton from London, on the 10th of October, in Lat. 36, 36, Long. 68, 36, passed a Wreck which he took to be a Brig or a Schooner, having Room Sails, saw her Quarters and Grates painted black, red and yellow.

By Capt. Drew from Port-au-Prince, we learn, that a vessel arrived there from Cape Nicholas Mole, before he sailed, the Master of which informed, that they had a violent Gale of Wind on the South Side of Hispaniola, the 28th of August, which drove all the Shipping on Shore, but they were got off again; and did a great deal of Damage to the Coffee Plantations in that Part of the Island; that on the 31st, they had the Hurricane at the Mole, in which all the Vessels were drove from their Anchors, and must inevitably have been beat to Pieces against the Rocks, but the Wind providentially shifted suddenly, and drove them on the opposite Shore, being a Sandy Beach, from which they all got off, without much Damage, except a Brig belonging to Virginia, which remained ashore when he sailed.
